Once upon a time, there was a king. He had a daughter. One day, when the king went into his daughter's bedroom, he found that the princess was ill. The princess was weak. The king was worried.

The king asked all the doctors to come to the palace. The doctor looked at the princess carefully. One doctor said, "Your majesty, we are worry. We can't help the princess." The King was disappointed. He shouted at the doctors "I don't want to see you all, get out."

The next day, a magician came to the palace. He told the king, "Let me try, I can cure the princess." The king was puzzled about the magician, but he had no other methods. The magician gave the princess a big punch. Suddenly, the princess became an old witch! The king was shocked.

The magician took out a glass of magic water and poured to the witch. The magician turned back to the princess. The king exclaimed, 'Oh no! My princess is back!' The witch was arrested. Since then, the king and the princess lived in the place happily.

Once upon a time, there was a king. He had a daughter. One day, when the king went into his daughter's bedroom, he found that the princess was lying on the bed. The king felt shocked. So, he called the best doctors in the kingdom.

Later, the doctors came. They examined the princess. The doctors said, "We can't help! The princess already died in the plague. The king felt sorrowful because he didn't take care of the princess. While the king was crying, the guards brought a little magician into the room. He said, 'Let me try. I can help.' Then, the king said; 'Then how will you help me?' The magician said that he would find the magic stone under the sea. So, the king gave permission to the magician to find the magic stone.

Months passed. The magician had still not come back. So, the king thought that the magician scammed him. But suddenly, the magician used his special teleport ability to go back to the palace.

The magician was covered in water, and he looked sick. So, he told the king to put the magic gemstone into her nostrils. Then, to the king's amazement ,the princess got revived. The King hugged the princess with joy. At last, the king gave the magician glory and riches. He also married the princess. Then, they lived happily ever after.
